Re: Curtis v. Cenlar FSB, et al.
Case No. 13-cv-3007 (DLC)

Dear Judge Cote:

This firm represents Defendants Cenlar, FSB, Cenlar Agency, Inc. (collectively "Cenlar") and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation ("Freddie Mac"). By letter dated May 7, 2013, counsel for Defendants, American Security Insurance Company ("ASCI") and Assurant, Inc., ("Assurant") wrote Your Honor and requested a 30-day extension of the deadline for ASCI and Assurant to respond to Plaintiff's Complaint. We recently received notice that their request was granted and that they are required to respond to the Complaint on or before June 10, 2013. For the reasons stated therein, we also request an extension to June 10, 2013, of the deadline for Cenlar and Freddie Mac to respond to Plaintiff's Complaint. This is Cenlar's and Freddie Mac's first request to this court for such an extension.

As the Court is aware, Plaintiff initiated this matter in the Supreme Court of the State of New York. Subsequently, Defendants, ASCI and Assurant, removed the matter to this Court. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 81(c), Cenlar's and Freddie Mac's responses are due May 10, 2013. Given the length of the Complaint, the complex legal and factual issues raised therein, and number of parties involved in this matter, an extension is warranted.

We contacted Plaintiff and requested that he consent to our request for an extension of time to respond to the Complaint. However, our request was denied. Defendants ASCI and Assurant have no objection.

Respectfully submitted,

Bradley L. Mitchell
